This collection of paintings depicts a variety of subjects from my garden and nearby trails, or gifted by friends, painted inside and out. I love variety and take pleasure in contemplating the unique experience of form and meaning that can be found in every new subject, whether it be a glowing fresh fruit adorning the branch of a tree in summer, or the soft fall of light on a shelf edge in winter.

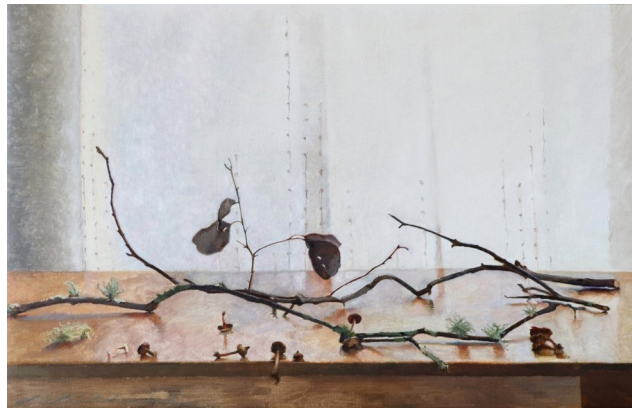

The pattern of seasons connects these various pieces in that ceaseless rhythm, reflecting a simple life enthralled by the timeless and always changing ornaments of nature.
